To Whom it May Concern:

I recommend Nanny Marly with great enthusiasm. At first, I was not entirely comfortable with the idea of having someone stay overnight, but once I met Marly, I felt she was trustworthy and would take good care of our baby.

She considers taking care of children a privilege, and it shows. Marly cared for our third child practically every night for the first four months of his life. She demonstrated warmth, experience, confidence, and competency with newborns. In fact, our older children also grew fond of her (and insisted she go to their bedrooms to say hello every night even though they were already in bed when she arrived). We now ask her to babysit all three children on occasion, and she is still the person I trust the most to watch the baby.

Please do not hesitate to contact me for further information. I hope you consider hiring Marly to spend time with your children.

Sincerely,

Anita M.
